CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Employees of ProCare MSO and the Medical Groups/Independent Physician Associations (IPA) are expected to devote their best efforts and attention to the full-time performance of their jobs. Employees are expected to use good judgment, to adhere to high ethical standards, and to avoid situations that create an actual or potential conflict between the employee's personal interests and the interests of PPCIPA/ProCare MSO. A conflict of interest exists when an employee's loyalties or actions are divided between PPCIPA/ProcareMSO interests and those of another, such as a competitor, supplier, or customer. Both a conflict of interest and the appearance of a conflict of interest should be avoided. An employee who is unsure as to whether a certain transaction, activity, or relationship constitutes a conflict of interest or the appearance of a conflict of interest is required to discuss the situation with his or her immediate supervisor for clarification.

This policy does not attempt to describe all possible conflicts of interest that could develop. Some of the more common conflicts from which employees should refrain, include the following:

1. Accepting personal gifts or entertainment from competitors, customers, suppliers or potential suppliers.
2. Working for a competitor, supplier or customer while employed by the Company.
3. Engaging in self-employment in competition with the Company.
4. Disclosing PPCIPA/ProCare MSO trade secrets or confidential proprietary information for personal gain to the Company's detriment.
5. Having a direct or indirect financial interest in or relationship with a competitor, customer or supplier.
6. Using PPCIPA/ProCare MSO assets, including computers, or labor for personal use. When an employee's interest is adverse to the Company's, the employee will not be authorized to use Company computers or other Company assets that can be used for the employee's personal gain.
7. Acquiring any interest in property or assets of any kind for the purpose of selling or leasing it to the Company.
8. Committing PPCIPA/ProCare MSO to give its financial or other support to any outside activity or organization except within the ordinary course and scope of employment.
9. Developing a personal relationship with a subordinate employee of the Company that might interfere with the exercise of impartial judgment in decisions affecting the Company or any employees of the Company.

If an employee or someone with whom the employee has a close personal relationship (a family member or companion) has a personal, financial or employment relationship with a competitor, supplier or customer, the employee must disclose this fact in writing.

If an actual conflict of interest is determined to exist, the Company may respond to this perceived conflict as the Company deems is appropriate based upon the circumstances.

Employees may pursue and participate in employment or other business activities outside of normal working hours provided such arrangement neither creates a conflict of interest nor detracts from performance and/or effectiveness while working for the Company, and provided the employee does not offer or provide such services to the Company. Any employee who has other employment must disclose such employment to his or her supervisor so that an evaluation can be made as to whether a conflict of interest exists. The failure to adhere to this guideline, including the failure to disclose any potential conflicts or to seek an exception, will result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.
